THIS AND THAT.

Lieutenant George A. Hegg, who is well known and has many friends in this city, arrived here yesterday direct from San Francisco, where he arrived one week ago after a long active service in the Philippines. Lieutenant Hegg came to this city three years ago as a corporal on the recruiting staff headed by Lieutenant Frank P. Sitter. He was bright, intelligent, active and his superior service to his country won him a promotion after Lieutenant Sitter's removal to another field of service. Corporal Hegg was made a sergeant and placed in charge of the recruiting station at Scranton. His superior conduct in the field there led to his being promoted to a lieutenant, which he creditably filled to the expiration of his enlistment. Lieutenant Hegg will remain in the city several days, after which he will go to Washington and again enter the service of the government—Wilkes-Barre News.

MEETING OF LUMBERMEN

Large Number of Them Gathered Here Yesterday and Were Entertained by Local Brethren.

Thirty retail lumber dealers from various parts of the state were here yesterday in attendance upon the semi-annual convention of the Pennsylvania Lumbermen's Protective association.

They had two business sessions in the board of trade building and in the evening were entertained with a drive over the boulevard and a dinner at Scheibel's.

The transactions of the convention were mostly of a private nature. At the morning session, which was held in the quarters of the Builders' Exchange, the board of directors received and passed upon complaints made against members or wholesalers for violating the Boston agreement of 1893, which was in effect that no wholesaler would sell to any one not a member of the retailers' association, providing the retailers would patronize only members of the wholesalers' association.

These matters were reported to a general meeting of all the representatives in the assembly room of the board of trade.

The more important convention is held in January of each year. The next one will be held in Philadelphia. The officers are elected at the January meeting.

The present officers of the association are: President, W. M. James, of Steelton; vice president, S. H. Sturdevant, of Wilkes-Barre; secretary, treasurer, T. J. Snowdon, of Scranton; Fred May, of Hazleton; W. Z. Senor, of Lancaster; L. S. Ryan, of Wilkes-Barre; C. F. Brown, of South Bethlehem; S. T. Frederick, of Hazleton. All of these were here, with the exception of Directors Senor and Frederick. H. F. Laing, secretary of the Builders' Exchange, assisted Secretary-Treasurer Snowdon in taking the minutes.

The delegates were entertained by the Retail Lumber Dealers' association. The committee on entertainment consisted of John Deane, Evan R. Jones and T. J. Snowdon.

The following were at the convention: Joseph Losey, Scranton Lumber company, Scranton; George W. Williams & Co., Scranton; Steelton Paving Mill company, Steelton; M. E. BOTH VETOS SUSTAINED

SENT TO SELECT COUNCIL BY RECORDER CONNELL.

Did Not Approve of Council's Action in Directing Dr. Allen to Return to City Treasurer the Fund for Burying Dead Animals and Thought the Deficiency Resolution Should Have Been an Ordinance.

Lively Debate Over Lackawanna Avenue Sewer—Other Business.

Recorder W. L. Connell sent two vetoes to the select council last night, and both of them were sustained. In each instance the veto was directed against a resolution.

Council passed a resolution directing Dr. W. E. Allen, the superintendent of the bureau of health, to pay back into the city treasurer the sum of $40, which was drawn for the purpose of having on hand a fund for the paying for the burial of dead animals.

This resolution did not find favor with the recorder. He said that while he thoroughly appreciated and commended the attitude of council in seeking to check any action which might at some future time be taken as a precedent, justifying the practice of making advance payments out of the city treasury, he believed that in this particular instance an examination would convince them of the justice and necessity of this fund. He then went on to say that heretofore it has been necessary for various city officials to advance the money necessary to bury these animals, and he thought this was not just. He explained that the money was properly safeguarded.

Schneider and Merriman thought the resolution should pass notwithstanding the veto, for the reason that it would be establishing a dangerous precedent and that at all events the city treasurer was the only person authorized to do this, in the city. They conceded the convenience of the arrangement to the bureau of health, but believed the results that would eventually follow would be bad.

Councilmen Congrove and Melvin thought the arrangement was very advantageous one all around and that council ought to support the recorder in the attitude he took. A roll-call showed that the veto was sustained by the following vote:

Yeas—Reagan, Maloney, Merriman, Oliver, Vaughan, Chittenden—6.
Nays—Egan, Costello, Evans, Morgan, Melvin, Schneider, Shea, Congrove, Schroeder, Clemens, O'Boyle, McAndrew—14.

WON'T GET A FRANCHISE

Rapid Transit Ordinance Is Killed in Select Council.

Select council last night gave a death-blow to the ordinance granting a franchise to the Rapid Transit Street Railway company. After the ordinance was passed, providing this shall not be construed as releasing the property from any sewer assessment for which it is or may be assessed.

A resolution was passed granting permission to William Puhl to connect his Alder street property with the Lavelle court sewer, providing this shall not be construed as releasing the property from any sewer assessment for which it is or may be assessed.

THE OTHER VETO.

The other veto was of the resolution directing that all deficiencies for the last fiscal year be charged against the corresponding items for the present fiscal year. In his veto, the recorder takes the position that charges cannot be made in the appropriation ordinance save by ordinance and suggests that an ordinance be passed authorizing the city controller to transfer from the balances shown to exist by his statement, such amounts as may be necessary to wipe out these deficiencies. He considered that a more business-like method of disposing of the matter than to wipe out deficiencies in items of last year at the imminent risk of creating new deficiencies in the same appropriations for this year. The passage of the suggested ordinance would also operate without embarrassing the departments which have made arrangements for the expenditure of the money provided for in the present appropriation ordinance.

Accompanying the veto was the following statement from the city controller:

Balances in city account $4,012.00
Balances in special city account 2,027.92
Total $6,039.92
Total deficiencies carried over from last year $6,039.92
Total deficiencies paid to date 3,216.57
Balance $2,823.35

These deficiencies do not include those provided for in the general appropriation ordinance. The Recorder's veto was sustained without a dissenting vote.

There was quite a spirited fight over the passage of the reading of the ordinance for the reconstruction of the first district main sewer in Lackawanna avenue from the "X" to the river.

MR. CHITTENDEN'S SUGGESTION.

Chairman Chittenden relinquished the chair and said that by connecting the basins of the Lackawanna avenue with the Tenth district main sewer which flows into the Lackawanna water of the district above the intersection of Lackawanna and Jefferson avenue which now flows into the Lackawanna avenue sewer would be diverted into the Tenth district which can easily be done if the basins of the Lackawanna avenue sewer were greatly relieved and the proposed reconstruction would be unnecessary. The change suggested by Mr. Chittenden would cost less than $300 he said. The reconstruction proposed will cost $12,000.

REPESED TO RECONSIDER.

Later in the meeting, Councilman McAndrew, of the Twenty-first ward, moved that the council reconsider its action in defeating the ordinance. Mr. Maloney, of the Seventh, seconded the motion. By a vote of seven yeas and eleven nays, council refused to reconsider its action. It will not be possible to revive the ordinance this year.

The board of assessors have ordered the books necessary to make the city assessment under the second class city act and expect to be able to begin their duties about Sept. 1.

They have agreed upon the rule which shall be observed in assessing city property, according to the three classes to which it must be divided according to the act.
